Dear Parents and Students,

A janitor of our school found a dead bird on the campus on 6 February 2006 and we immediately sent it to the Department of Health for inspection. On the night of 8 February, it was confirmed that the bird carried the virus H5. The School did all the necessary follow-up precautions. SMS messages were sent to all parents.

Now the School would like to remind all parents and students not to touch any bird on the campus, but to observe all the relevant health regulations. If you see any dead bird on the campus, please inform the General Office at once. Remember not to treat it on your own.

Terence Chang,
Headmaster.
